

Description: This is a missing emoji memory game made in vscode using Node.js/Express. When the game starts, players are shown a set of emojis to memorize. After a few seconds, one emoji is removed, and the player must select the missing emoji from a list of options. The game increases in difficulty with each correct answer by adding more emojis to memorize. The player's score and level are tracked throughout the session

Link to AI prompt here using Perplexity

